Turning Points in Modern Jewish History

Presented by Professor Shirli Gilbert

This short course traces the journey of the Jews from the medieval ghetto to statehood and beyond, centred around four pivotal moments in history: The Dreyfus Affair, the Kishinev pogrom, Kristallnacht, and the Six-Day War. Presented by Shirli Gilbert, Professor of Modern Jewish History, University of Southampton.

The course will present a broad, engaging overview, zooming in on significant, unusual, and extraordinary episodes along the way, all taught through original primary documents.

We recommend attending the full course for meaningful insight, continuity, and in-depth debate.

No preparation necessary.

5th – 26th June 2019
